

Reflection on Remodel Works Marketing Internship

Michelle Williams

I had very few expectations for my internship at Remodel Works. I was enticed by the marketing department's laid back and youthful vibes in connection with its drive to constantly improve and be the best. That's exactly what I found when I came to the company. Martha, David and Dan are all extremely fun and friendly while still maintaining a high level of productivity. They made it a priority to make sure that I was learning and getting the most out of my time by providing training sessions and always being open to questions. Although remodeling is not very glamorous and I might not need to know about specifics of remodeling ever again, I learned so much more than that during my time there. I not only learned about office etiquette, leadership dynamics, and how to work under stress, but also about the ins and outs of the marketing world today. Although some of my tasks were menial, I enjoyed many of my tasks and I always had something to do- fetching coffee was not one of them! On top of it all, David, Dan and Martha all made sure to make me feel appreciated and like I was a part of the family. I would not hesitate to say that my time at Remodel works was a fun and worthwhile experience.
